

Damage Up To 100%

Hail Last Week Hits Many County Areas

Widespread hail storms Wednesday and Thursday of last week caused damage up to 100% to crops in many parts of the County of Vulcan.

Hardest hit were the Champion, Carmangay-Peacock, Herronton and Vulcan districts. Reports from Alberta Wheat Pool agents estimate damage as follows:

Vulcan—10% of acreage (mostly east and north) damage 10% to 70%.

Champion—25% to 100% damage by storm Aug. 3 that started west of Alston and cut through Champion. Damage mostly west and southeast.

Carmangay—East two-thirds of district hit by storm four to six miles wide, damage 10% to 100%.

Peacock—50% hail damage in north-east area.

Ensign—5% of acreage hit by hail, damage varies.

Herronton—10% to 100% hail damage on about 4,000 acres. Damage from heavy rains and strong winds accompanying storm could also be heavy.

Most parts of the county received good rains last week and, generally speaking, no further rain is required for this crop. Warm, sunny weather such as prevailed Tuesday of this week will be needed to ripen the crop before the threat of frost.

Rainfall received last week at nine reporting points is shown below, with the total rainfall since May 1 shown in brackets.

Vulcan, 1.70 inches (10.69).
Champion, 1.09 inches (7.59).
Carmangay, .44 inch (7.54).
Peacock, .50 inch (12.30).

Kirkcaldy, .80 inch (9.30). No hail damage reported.

Ensign, 1.8 inches (11.90).

Herronton, 2.77 inches (14.03).

Queenstown, 1.00 inch (11.70). No hail damage reported.

Lomond, .60 to 1.50 rain received in area where crops were starting to burn. In Lomond, .60 recorded, making 9.60 inches since May 1.

Throughout the county fall rye is now being swathed and combined. In the south and east, winter wheat and barley are reported ready to swath and west and north of Vulcan barley is changing color.

IRRIGATION POLICY CONFERENCE

The Irrigation Policy Conference to discuss studies on irrigation on August 3 in Taber brought some interesting information to light.

Dr. Rogers, Department of Agricultural Economics, found in his study of the E.I.D. for the year 1963 that benefits from irrigation would fall into a ratio of 11% for local farms, 23% for local business 35% for the Province as a whole, and 32% outside of the Province. This would mean that about two thirds of the benefits stay in the Province. Using as a predictive indicator the E.I.D. he said, that if there was no irrigation in the areas there would be 75% less farmers because of the need of larger land holdings to meet demands. Also that 90% of businesses in Brooks would fail and he felt that a heavy toll would occur in other towns located within irrigation units if removed. By comparing the number of dollars invested in irrigation in relation to benefits he found that on the average for every dollar invested there would be three dollars of benefit. Dr. Rogers statistics were questioned but he felt these were the most valid and reliable in light of the time and material he had for his research. I believe the report was quite worthwhile as it gives us a better understanding of the benefits of irrigation, some of the necessities and guide lines to setting new policy in irrigation and a somewhat compact concrete report from which more work can be done.

We hope that this research report will give us some basis for cost-sharing agreements for established irrigation projects and for new ones in the future.

UFO OR APRIL FOOL

From the seat of a tractor the view on a summerfallow field might include such commonplace items as gophers, rabbits, pheasants, rocks and weeds but on the Roy McIntyre farm they hit a strange find this year.

Well into a field a thin rectangular non-metallic but hard, flat substance, three inches by five inches with raised ends, was found, containing a quantity of silvery shreds all massed together each measuring up to one-half inch in length. Whatever it is resembles hair-like aluminum filings, is almost weightless and glows red over a flame and is quite smooth to the touch.

It could be something very ordinary, used by industry or by appliance manufacturers but the McIntyres haven't the foggiest notion what it was doing in their field.

We haven't been bothered by those unidentified flying objects around these parts but a few more of these discoveries may lead the McIntyres to a lot more of this nightly star gazing.

Wheat Pool Plans New Elevators At Blackie, Barons

New Alberta Wheat Pool elevators are scheduled to be built at Blackie and Barons within the next year, it has been announced.

The Board of Directors of the Wheat Pool has approved a tentative 1966-67 country building program of 1½ million dollars. Some 25 shipping points will be involved. The net increase in total Pool storage capacity will be over a million bushels.

Start of actual construction, at the various points, will depend on the availability of work crews, and on local crop conditions.

The expansion program includes replacement of a number of buildings to be dismantled.

New Pool elevators are scheduled for Buffalo, Claysmore, Kitscoty, Barons, Blackie, Delia, Trochu, Westlock, Loughheed, Ryley and Beiseker.

New annexes will go to Royal Park, Bluesky, Hobbema, Kelsey and Empress.

New agents' dwellings are planned for Etzikom, Rochford Bridge, Midnapore, Gadsby, Kirriemuir, Killam, Leslieville, Mazeppa and Kelsey.

Town and Kinsmen Project

New Centennial Playground Popular With Children

Town of Vulcan centennial grants in the amount of $6,100 have been used for the purchase of sufficient equipment for two children's playgrounds and installation of the equipment is the centennial project of the Vulcan Kinsmen Club.

The first of these playgrounds, located adjacent to the swimming pool, has been in operation for the past couple of weeks. A work party of Kinsmen labored all one Sunday to set up the equipment and cement it in. As the picture above shows, good use is being made of the playground's 11 pieces of equipment, which includes slides, swings, merry-go-round, two sets of monkey bars and tot's slide.

President of the Kinsmen Club is Amond Hyslip and Keith Aiken is president-elect.

Equipment for the second playground has been purchased but will not be installed until next year. The second playground will definitely be located in the north-west side of town, possibly in the new Robson sub-division.

Swimming Team Needs Members

The Vulcan swimming team is handicapped by lack of numbers this season. In order to make a good showing at inter-town competitive swim meets, more swimmers are needed.

Anyone up to 17 who is interested in competitive swimming is urged to contact the swimming coach. Practices are held from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. daily at the pool.

GOOD ADVICE

It's bad enough to be a quitter. But it's worse to finish something you never should have started.

Pioneer Resident Of Carmangay Dies At Vulcan

A resident of the Carmangay district for 54 years, Mrs. Maria Fremstad died at Vulcan on August 6, 1966. She was 83 years of age.

Born in Norway, Mrs. Fremstad came to the Carmangay district in 1912 and had lived there since. She was predeceased by her husband, Ole, in 1958.

Surviving are one son, John, Carmangay; three daughters, Mrs. T. (Olga) Jevne of Vancouver, Mrs. E. C. (Ethel) Collier and Mrs. T. (Mabel) Svanes, both of Carmangay; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Martin Bros. Chapel in Lethbridge on Wednesday, August 10, conducted by Rev. Albert Collier of Carbon. Interment was in Archmount Memorial Gardens.

Family Contributed Much To Vulcan Community

Seventeen years of Vulcan living came to an end this July for the Bill Shields family and M. R. Morrison pictured below, when the Shields moved to Weyburn, Saskatchewan where Bill is employed with the J. I. Case Co.

The photo was taken last Christmas when the family were all together for one of their infrequent times as Bill has been at Weyburn since December, 1965 and Mr. Morrison has been plagued with illness this past year and has spent considerable time in hospital.

M. R. Morrison came to Vulcan in 1945 when, with Emil Olsen as his partner, he bought the Massey-Harris agency from W. R. Turley. He later bought out Mr. Olsen's interest and incorporated the business under the name M. R. Morrison Ltd.

On Dec. 1, 1948, son-in-law W. A. Shields, who had been a member of the RCMP for eight years, left the force and moved to Vulcan and for the next 17 years to the day until Dec. 1, 1965, was associated with Mr. Morrison in the farm machinery business. During this time the entire family was deeply involved in the business, church and community life of the town and there have been few civic groups or other organizations which did not include some member of the family.

Max Morrison moved to Vulcan from Lethbridge where he had been in the farm machinery business. For his work as treasurer and later as president of the Co-ordinating Council of the Auxiliary War Services in Lethbridge he was, in July 1946, named an Officer of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (O.B.E.).

Elected to the Town of Vulcan council in 1947, Mr. Morrison served on council continuously until 1965, the last four years as mayor. He was the town's representative on the Vulcan Municipal Hospital Board from 1957 until 1965 and a member of the Vulcan-Foothills Auxiliary Hospital Board. Mr.

Morrison was very active in the work of the Vulcan United Church. He is presently a patient in the Calgary General Hospital.

The leadership and guidance of Bill Shields was felt in business and town administration as he served a term as president of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce, was for ten years town magistrate and had a great deal to do with the development of Civil Defence here, acting as co-ordinator for years. In his business Bill was a member of the Canadian Federation of Implement Dealers and was president of this body for a year.

His close association with the United Church brought him into Sunday School work and he served as chairman of the Board of Stewards. His musical interest and exceptional tenor voice also contributed much to this field of interest in town and he was a regular church choir member and was in many community choirs and singing groups.

When the Massey dealership headed by M. R. Morrison was ended in 1965 Bill stayed in Vulcan for a time and then took the position at Weyburn where the family's present address is 23 McKinnon Bay.

Iris Shields has also contributed in many community and church groups and spent a great deal of time in CGIT work as well as being a member of the church choir and in one of the church women's groups. As well as her work in community endeavor and keeping up her home and family Mrs. Shields performed secretarial duties in the implement business and this past term has been employed as secretary at County Central High School.

A big man is not one who makes no mistakes, but one who is bigger than any mistakes he makes.

Trophy Presented At International Convention

Flying Farmers Award Goes To V. Westersund

Top award at the International Flying Farmers convention held at Louisville, Kentucky, July 29 to August 5, went to a Canadian, Varno C. Westersund of Blackie, Alta., when he was named "Flying Farmer of the Year."

Long active in the organization, Mr. Westersund is Canadian executive secretary of the IFF and legislative representative to the Department of Transport at Ottawa.

A charter member of the Alberta Flying Farmers, he served as president of the Alberta group in 1958-59 and last year was appointed as a member of the National Research Council committee dealing with agriculture aviation. A director of the 9,000-member International Flying Farmers, he is also a national director of the Canadian Pilots and Owners Association.

The award trophy, a beautifully engraved plaque, was presented to Mr. Westersund by Dayton Chisholm of St. Pierre, S.D., president of the IFF.

A resident of the Blackie district since 1928, Mr. Westersund operates a 2,700 acre farm in the Herronton district. He served five years in the U.S. Air Force as a flight engineer in the Pacific theatre during World War Two.

Accompanied by his wife, Juanita, and their two daughters, Murrell, 16, and Varnita, 20, Mr. Westersund flew to Louisville to attend the convention, where he was one of the featured speakers. A son, Curtis, 11, stayed at home. They were among the 1,200 farmers, wives and families from all over the United States and Canada who attended the 21st annual meeting of the International Flying Farmers, arriving in some 450 light aircraft.

Advertisers should appreciate the fact that the columns of the Vulcan Advocate provide the most economical and effective means for contacting the people of the town, villages and county.

★ THE CIRCULATION

The weekly printings of The Advocate now exceed 2,800 copies. Some copies go to distant points. The remainder are distributed to town and village residents and to every farmer ratepayer in the County of Vulcan — thus putting your advertising message directly into the hands of those people who are your potential customers.

★ COST OF MAILING

It is estimated that each copy is read by three people. So it is reasonably certain that over 8,000 people peruse each issue. If a businessman, or anyone else, undertook to mail even 2,000 addressed circulars the postage cost alone at 3c for not over 2 oz., would be $60.00. Besides that cost there would be the expense of printing, addressing and handling.

★ THE ECONOMICAL PLAN

The advertising rates in The Advocate are most reasonable for the coverage provided. You get full value for your advertising dollar, because you are not paying to have your message heard or read by people living hundreds of miles from your place of business — people from whom you can expect little or no patronage.

The people you wish to contact are the residents of the County of Vulcan area, for they are your potential customers, and no other means of advertising and publicity can provide the complete coverage of this area given by The Vulcan Advocate.

IN MEMORIAM

HANSON—In loving memory of our mother, Gunhilde, who passed away August 14, 1965.

Softly I turn back the pages of time,

To wander down memory lanes, With laughter and tears

I bring back the years, And gently speak their names. Things have changed in many ways,

But one thing changes never, The memory of those happy days,

When we were all together. —Forever remembered by daughters Alma, Gladys, Violet, Margaret and Opal, and sons Leonard, Harlan, Glen and Marlen and all of their families. 2-1p

SCALES—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Stanley, who passed away August 11th, 1965.

"God saw he was getting weary, He did what He saw best. He put His arms around him, And whispered 'Come to rest.' The golden gate stood open One year ago today; With goodbyes left unspoken, He gently slipped away."

—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his wife, Alice, daughter Marilyn and sons Kenneth and Milton. 2-1p

DAWSON—In loving memory of Gordie who passed away August 15, 1965.

"Each time we look at your picture You seem to smile and say, 'Don't cry, I'm only sleeping. We will meet again some day.' Time cannot fill that vacant chair

That holds an empty space, Time cannot make our home the same

Without you in your place." —Ever remembered by Mom, Dad, Connie and Bonnie. 2-1p

GRAIN LOSSES DURING HARVEST

Regardless of what happens from now on we're going to have grain to harvest. The big trick will be to reduce losses which invariably occur.

Weather is usually the largest single cause for losses of grain around harvest time. While man can't do much about this, the Canada Department of Agriculture has done some studies on the subject of reducing losses from other causes in the actual harvesting operation.

As we all know, wind and rain as well as animals and birds reduce our crop, with these losses increasing ever faster as the grain matures. Under adverse weather these natural losses can be very large.

Studies reported by M. E. Doodds of the Canada Department of Agriculture showed that losses caused by the reel and cutter bar increase with maturity. On the other hand grain losses in the windrow caused by the action of the pick-up is fairly constant regardless of the stage of maturity at which the crop is cut.

Threshing and separating loss in the combine occurs mainly at the straw walkers. Overloading this mechanism will seriously increase this loss.

As wheat is the most widely grown crop in this country, let's look a little closer at harvesting operations. Wheat can be most profitably windrowed when the kernel moisture is 35% as the losses from natural causes at this stage may be as low as one-quarter bushel per acre. At the straight combining stage of maturity, this natural loss is often three times as great. When you add your reel and cutter bar losses, the total losses from swathed wheat is six-tenths of a bushel and one and one quarter bushels per acre for straight combined wheat. The pick-up losses will be an extra three tenths of a bushel per acre for both methods.

There is a large amount of research information which has demonstrated that grain losses at harvest time may be substantially reduced by starting to swath wheat at the 35% moisture stage of maturity and continuing until the moisture has decreased to approximately 20%. A wheat crop with less than 20% moisture should be left for straight combining.

Because adjustments of the combine is important in our internal threshing losses, there have been a number of publications regarding this subject. In fact some of the booklets cover a very wide range of harvesting operations, swathing, adjustments of combines, hints on threshing Malting Barley and so to a total of nine different titles. If you're in town, drop down to the office and browse through our harvesting publications.

SCHOOL DAYS. Another school year begins in about three weeks. Meanwhile memories of the Home Economics display at CCHS this spring are found in the above photo in which Ina Haverty and Dianne Ohler are shown with a display of liquid embroidery on fabrics. Teachers connected with classes whose work was exhibited were Miss M. Ross, Mrs. Louis Schmidt and Mrs. Doreen Hill.

For the past two weeks I've been on the road (which accounts for no column last week) spending one week at Olds, Farm Women's Week and one week at Elkwater 4-H Camp. I found the week at Olds informative and interesting as I'm sure the ladies did also. I enjoyed meeting and talking with the women from the County of Vulcan and from the Strathmore area. I hope to see you all soon again—it is wonderful to see you take an interest in the Farm Women's program. I'm sure the ideas we all acquired will benefit us in the busy job of homemaking.

This week I'd like to discuss a few points in regards to freezing foods. Freezing is becoming "The Method" of preserving food, probably because it is quick and requires less effort. A few steps to successful freezing are:

- 1) Select foods of top quality.
- 2) Choose vegetables and fruits suitable for freezing and the best varieties. Test a small quantity of the food if in doubt as its freezing qualities, rather than freeze a large quantity. Then sample this produce after freezing. Foods such as onions, lettuce, salad greens, radishes and tomatoes do not freeze well.
- 3) Prepare for freezing immediately. The less time fruits or vegetables stand at room temperature before freezing the more flavor and quality they retain. This also refers to time between picking and preparation.
- 4) Pre-treat before freezing to inhibit enzyme action. Most fruits need to be sweetened and vegetables should be blanched.
- 5) Select containers for convenience and economical use of freezer space. Rigid containers made of aluminum, glass, plastic, or heavily waxed cardboard are suitable for all packs. Glass canning jars may be used for most fruits and vegetables (including those using syrup) provided enough headspace is allowed for expansion during freezing. Coffee cans may be used for cooked foods if sealed with freezer tape to make them airtight.

Moisture-vapor resistant plastic, freezer weight aluminum foil or laminated paper may be all be used. Rigid container flat on both top and bottom allow maximum use of freezer space.

6) Avoid air pockets when freezing. Pack foods solidly but leave necessary headspace for expansion. Use freezer tape to seal tops.

7) Label containers carefully making sure to mark the date of freezing. Use a wax pencil for this purpose.

8) Spread out packages in freezer allowing at least 1" between them for circulation of air and faster freezing.

9) Keep freezer temperature at 0 degrees F. or lower.

Bye for now and happy preserving! Further information on preserving different types of foods is available at my office.

'The two best beers in the house!'

Lethbridge
Pilsner

Lethbridge
Lager

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home-grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager — they call it 'bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure yeast and hops. Micro-filtered 'bridge is mellow, naturally-aged lager beer at its best!

Milo-Lomond Interest In Pretty, Summer Wedding

The Milo United Church was the scene of a lovely summer wedding June 18th when Diane Le e, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gooch became the bride of Gordon Milton Howg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Howg of Lomond in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. W. Dormer and Mrs. E. Howie.

Bouquets of pink and white carnations and mums decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of silk faced nylon peau de sole and chantly lace. The slim sheath skirt was accented by a chantly lace capuchon cape top with lily point sleeves. A beautiful chantly lace train flowed gracefully from her shoulders as she walked down the aisle. Her veil of illusion, net was held in place by a pearl and crystal tiara and she carried a heart shaped bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Joan Winch was matron of honor, and Misses Louise and Debra Gooch and Linda Howg were the bridesmaids. They wore identical floor length gowns of sweetheart pink. A high circular band, ornamented with a self material rose created an empire waist effect. Identical head pieces of pink net roses and white accessories completed their ensembles. They carried heart shaped bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The flower girl, Cynthia Maldaner of Innisfail, wore a floor length dress of sweetheart pink identical to the bridesmaids complemented by a headpiece of dainty pink flowers and white shoes and gloves. She carried a basket of white and pink carnations.

Rickie Brandon, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The best man was Donnie Beagle of Armada. Ushers were Gary Sokvitne of Lomond, Bobby Howg of Vancouver and Leo Gooch.

Preceding the ceremony Judith Willard, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Northcott, sang 'I'll Walk Beside You' and during the signing of the register she sang 'I Know Who Holds Tomorrow'.

Mrs. William Gooch, mother of the bride was attired in a gown of yellow and white bonded lace with matching coat and accessories. Mrs. Floyd Howg, the groom's mother, chose a green lace dress with matching three quarter length coat and beige accessories. Both outfits were complemented with orchid corsages.

A reception followed in the Milo Hall for 150 guests with Vern Maldaner capably fulfilling the role of master of ceremonies. Gwen Monner and Charlotte Gooch were in charge of the guest book. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. Chester Thompson and decorated by Mrs. Dave Deitz graced the bride's table. Vern Maldaner gave the toast to the bride and Donnie Beagle the toast to the bride's attendants. Eddie Holland of Calgary, a close family friend, gave a special tribute to the bride and her family. Judith Willard sang 'The Wedding, and Please Love Me Forever'.

Guests attended from Rawleigh, Calgary, Innisfail, Vancouver, Italy, High River, Lomond and Medicine Hat. A dance followed with a large crowd attending.
